

UCAS Statement for Higher Education institutions

Lady Margaret School is a high-achieving all-girls Church of England Academy in Fulham, London. We are consistently in the top 25% of Sixth Forms nationally for the progress our students make from GCSE to A Level and we offer 18 subjects at post-16. We do not offer any vocational qualifications post-16. We have high expectations and aspirations for our students whether they stay with us or join us for their education after GCSEs.

Students in Year 13 typically follow three A Level subjects. Students in five subjects were entered for AS Level (Design Technology, Government & Politics, History of Art, Mathematics, Further Mathematics). All other subjects are following the reformed linear qualification and students have only been entered for A Level examinations for these. Some students have taken opportunity to submit an Extended Project Qualification.
