Section 3: Vulnerable and Discretionary Bursary - types of awards available

The school will make an assessment for each individual student to determine whether they have the financial need for either a Vulnerable or Discretionary Bursary.

The school will only award a bursary payment if the student applying for a bursary has a need for the following items to be funded:

- Travel to and from school
- Books
- Educational materials
- Breakfast, break and lunch time food costs (when not in receipt of Free School Meals)
- IT equipment to assist with studies
- School trips and extra-curricular activity related to student's study programme
- Trips to university open days or interviews
- Other essential costs to participate in their study programme

The school will only pay the bursary if the student agrees to the following conditions:

- To spend their bursary payment on the purpose for which it is intended as set out above.
- To evidence bursary expenditure in full and with receipts, as and when required.
- To fully comply with the Sixth Form Home-School Partnership Agreement.
- To have a UK bank account in the student's name.

Students are therefore required to select from the list below which items they need bursary funding for and how much they estimate these items will cost. Students should justify the cost, providing evidence.

If a student qualifies for either a Vulnerable or Discretionary Bursary, there is still a possibility of no award or a limited award being made. A bursary is not guaranteed and will be awarded on an individual basis; therefore it may be the case that no two bursary awards are the same.

Section 3 – Discretionary Bursary related costing

Please select from the list below which items you need bursary funding for and how much you estimate that these items will cost. Students should justify the cost and provide evidence.
